Misook Heo at Duquesne University asks for your participation in a research project entitled, Visualization of Knowledge Sharing: Enhancing Online Motivation.

This research is to investigate how a visual display, such as a simple graph, may impact motivation and desire to contribute knowledge or other information in an online collaborative knowledge sharing space. You will be asked to participate in knowledge sharing activities which will be followed by questions regarding your intent to continue sharing information. You must be at least 18 to participate.

This survey can be completed from any computer with an Internet connection. Participants can enter for the chance to win an iPad Air.
